Mr. N. Ross and Mr. Cunningham Sr. went to Vancouver by plane last week.

The road from the big school to the junior school is very narrow, slanted, worn into grooves by run-off water, slippery in rain and snow. These conditions hinder travelling safely by foot or car. Many have fallen, numerous cars have been stuck or gone down the side of the slope. Mr. Maloney, our caretaker, sprained his wrist Monday morning when he fell. It would be wonderful to have this road between the schools graded. The WI sends flowers to hospital patients. Lorette received a bouquet of flowers. When her mother came to visit, she said: "Aren't these flowers lovely, but I don't know a Mrs. WI that lives in St. Albert."

TRIO JOIN SEARCH PARTY

MORINVILLE. — A week ago Wednesday, Mayor Soetart, Mr. Joffe Kremer and George Soetart joined the search party for the five lost sportsmen flying a Cessna plane lost between Grande Prairie and Edmonton. They met with a large number of others at Laberge's Garage at Dapp early Wednesday morning and after being briefed by the RCMP left as a party of five with two others and travelled from Dapp through Larkspur and Blue Ridge to Jarvie and back. After that they searched for three and a half hours in the deep muskeg and it was 7:00 p.m. when they reached camp very tired and hungry to be served supper by Red Cross attendants. In an interview it was stated that at that time no relatives of the missing men were on the scene of the search party, but many friends and acquaintances were there to help.

MORINVILLE NEWS NOTES

The library tag day netted about $40, considering the cold weather we figure it was a good day's work. However, now the last half of the Morinville library campaign is in full swing and we hope that all candidates will receive your support and bear in mind the big harvest dance on Friday, Nov. 3 when the crowning of the Queen will take place.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. J. O. C. McDonald entertained a few selected friends at an afternoon tea. Recently a demonstration of road building took place on the Exr Lake Coal Mine line. A new type of road equipment was used, and although a very few local people were notified of this affair in time to attend, some municipalities as far as Strone were represented.

On October 17 the wedding of Miss Victoria Dzielonkowsky and Mr. Peter Derudder, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Derudder took place in the St. Jean Baptiste church amid a large assembly of friends and relatives.

In the Spotlight

Whatever happens in Alberta, this province continually is in the national public eye. We have legends built around our cowboy ranchlands, spectacular politics and now the fabulous get-rich-quick formulas being tried out successfully in the oil fields.

In Maclean's November 1st issue the Spotlight is turned on Redwater, and 60-year-old Mayor Walker who in addition to recently becoming mayor, acquired $35,000 and a bride.

We respectfully add our congratulations and good wishes to all those who have found good fortune in oil.

In years to come we'll be proud to say: "We knew them when—"

Winnie On World Government

Winston Churchill recently made a trip to Denmark, was cheered by massed thousands in the capital city of Copenhagen, and delivered a memorable speech. Most spectacular of his remarks was this:

"The creation of an authoritative, all-powerful world order is the ultimate end towards which we must strive. Unless some effective world super-government can be set up and brought quickly into action, the prospects for peace and human progress are dark and doubtful."

Like many, if not most Canadians, we've always had great respect for Mr. Churchill and his views on any subject. In this speech, however, it seems to us he reached for something pretty close to the moon.

There are some 270,000,000 people in Europe this side of the Iron Curtain. If they could drop their tariff barriers and their age-old hatreds and get together in a close federation, their two worst problems would be well on the way toward solution. These problems are: poverty, and the threat of Communist Russia.

Since the big wars habitually start in Europe, and have done so for centuries, a united Europe dedicated to peace, prosperity and self-defense would relieve the world of one of its worst war threats.

With all due respect to Mr. Churchill, we think he'd better go back to working for a United States of Western Europe and forget about a world super-government. That latter scheme looks impossible from any angle. There is some, though not too much, hope that a U.S.W.E. may one day be hammered together, if Churchill and like-minded Europeans will keep plugging away for it.

The Search

Once again the decency of the ordinary people of Alberta has been shown by the current search north of Edmonton for the five missing hunters who crashed in their aircraft somewhere in the wilds nearly three weeks ago.

Deepest sympathy goes out to the families of these men, along with a prayer of hope that they may still be found, safe and alive.

But the stirring, human part of the drama that has been unfolding these past weeks is that hundreds of busy people in towns all over northern Alberta dropped their work-a-day duties to join in the mass search for the missing men.

In addition to the dozens of RCAF aircraft that spent day after day sweeping over the search area, cavalades of men went up from Edmonton, joined by residents of the small northern towns, to carry on the search on the ground.

Around Boyle especially, did this become evident. The people of that district went wholeheartedly into the search, and a vote of thanks goes out to them for their arduous work. To a lesser degree, the folks around Lac la Biche, actually miles from the probable scene of the accident, also went on the search, and the people around Whitecourt started looking, too, and haven't yet given up.

In a world where nations of men seem to think little of starting bloody wars all over the globe, it is indeed reassuring to see a great mass search in action, to see whole communities of men working to save their fellow men.

Second Class Mail

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

There's a popular song being beaten out over the juke boxes these days that has something to say about home cooking and a fellow who's so far away from it that he doesn't even get any mail.

Well, we have one sure cure for the mail problem . . . just get yourself firmly ensconced in some newspaper office and lucky, you'll get plenty of it. When I come to work each morning I find my desk piled practically to the ceiling with the stuff (I manage to sneak in just after mailman), and it's always my first job to sort through it all.

Raymond Argyle

Although a large portion of the mail is consigned to the waste-basket in short order, there is some of its that's pretty interesting.

The mail can be just about classified in four categories: news copy from our hundred-odd country correspondents, publicity releases from individuals, companies and governments, crack-pot literature from fanatics with cure-alls, and fact material such as books, pamphlets, news letters and papers from all over the country.

The publicity releases don't take long to scan through, and most of them don't get any closer to appearing in print than do the scraps in my waste-basket, as press releases seem to be written without the least regard for what constitutes news.

Some, however, are a fine source of real news and they're edited accordingly and sent through for immediate publication.

Next is the crack-pot literature . . . like the expensive looking pamphlets that came yesterday expounding the theory that the only way to avert another World War is to outlaw meat-eating!

What I call the fact material is most interesting. Included in this category, of course, are copies of papers from all over the country with which we exchange subscriptions, but I always put those aside to read later.

Free books, pamphlets, and news letters are items I always like to get.

When these come in, we always try to carry a short story mentioning them, with just a brief outline of the nature of the material.

There's some pretty good stuff in the news letters. The banks, especially, send out worth-while material. I'm thinking particularly of the Bank of Montreal and the Royal Bank.

For instance, there's one on my desk from the Royal Bank devoted mostly to the simple subject of 'Criticism.' Might sound dull at first, but criticism is a thing that can do a lot of harm and hurt plenty of people. I think I learned something on reading the part about how to criticize . . . and how to take criticism.

Then, of course, there's always the really valuable pamphlets from banks and governments on the state of affairs in this Canada of ours. Want to find out how we're really doing? Just look over a few of these regularly; they give you the low-down on jobs, prices and the state of our welfare in general.

And for the people who live on farms, the provincial and federal governments issue some really valuable booklets of farm interest.

So there you have it. Ever get lonely for want of mail? Just come around and see us some time . . . we'll fix you up with an armful to take home!

Scriptural Meditations

"Jesus said, 'Ye shall ask in my name: and I say unto you, that I will pray the Father for you: for the Father himself loveth you.' 'I have chosen you . . . that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.' John 16:26, 27: 15:16. But to pray in the name of Jesus is something more than a mere mention of that name at the beginning and the ending of a prayer. It is to pray in the mind and spirit of Jesus, while we believe his promises, rely upon his grace, and work his works."

"God does not mean that any of us should become hermits or monks, and retire from the world, in order to devote ourselves to acts of worship. The life must be like Christ's life—between the mountain and the multitude. He who does nothing but pray will soon cease to pray, or his prayers will become a formal routine."

When men take themselves out of social life, away from the sphere of Christian duty and cross-bearing; when they cease to work earnestly for the Master, who worked earnestly for them, they lose the subject matter of prayer, and have no incentive to devotion. Their prayers become personal and selfish. They cannot pray in regard to the wants of humanity or the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom, pleading for strength where to work."

—Steps to Christ.

Raw Deal

Dear Sir,—At the close of World War I, thousands of our ex-enemies, the Germans, Austrians, etc., settled in Canada, and now, at the age of 70, they are drawing Canadian old-age pensions, while the disabled veterans of that war are de-barred from it, because they get a meagre war disability pension.

How very logical! Go overseas to defend Canada's wealth and liberty, get shot up and maimed or blinded, and as soon as you accept a war disability pension, you forfeit your civil rights to a larger OAP, which is paid to everyone else, including communists.

What a jackass of a law and what an incentive to patriotism! What has our MP, Mr. Welbourn of Jasper-Edson, got to say about this? Cut this out and send it to Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Sloopy Speech

Dear Sir,—What is happening to the grammar of this country? You hear even nice people who should know better saying things like "I seen," "I have went," "I have sang," etc. I can't understand how people who have access to newspapers and magazines can indulge in such ignorant-sounding speech.

COMMENT FROM THE PRESS

Education

Available To All

(From Creston, B.C. Review)

We happen to know a family of four boys who once lived in an isolated place and who took all of their high school courses by correspondence. They stood high in all final examinations. Three of these four boys are today professional men, and the fourth a successful businessman.

We mention this to show that the question of whether correspondence courses are satisfactory depends entirely upon the student and his or her application to studies.

We admit there are some drawbacks to correspondence courses where practical subjects are concerned, but even these can be largely overcome if there is the will. To be of assistance to those students who, because of distance from elementary or high schools, or who suffer physical disabilities, the Department of Education has provided for correspondence school courses leading up to university entrance.

This is a splendid arrangement of which full advantage should be taken.

Canada has made great strides in duck conservation but sportsmen say the real battle to save these birds lies ahead.

Teachers Conclude Two-Day Convention In Edmonton

Current trends in education were discussed by over 800 northern Alberta teachers when they met for a two-day session in Edmonton this week.

Rural teachers were present from Lac Ste. Anne, Sturgeon, Thorild, Barrhead, Clover Bar, Coal Branch, Edson-Jasper, Stony Plain and Westlock divisions at the sessions held in the Masonic Temple.

Following registration, teachers were welcomed by Mayor Parsons, with an invocation given by Rev. E. J. Bailey of First Baptist Church.

General secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association, Eric C. Ansley, addressed the opening session, followed by the minister of education, Hon. Ivan Casey.

Feature speaker at Monday's afternoon session was Dr. F. G. Buchanan, Calgary, superintendent of schools.

In his address he stressed that the aim of education should be the total benefit of the individual pupil, and added that no pupil should be kept in one grade more than two years.

"It is highly unlikely that a repeated grade adds much to a pupil's knowledge," Dr. Buchanan told the teachers.

Pupils who become older than their classmates usually leave school at the earliest possible date, he said.

Dr. Buchanan said that of 100 students entering first grade, only 22 complete high school, and only three finish university.

Dr. Buchanan stressed the importance of praise as an incentive to greater effort. He suggested that teachers refrain from criticism unmix with encouragement. Pick out the good aspects of a pupils work, and mention them, he said.

Often too great stress is put on lecturing, with teachers neglecting visual aids. Collections of pictures from magazines and papers, for instance, are invaluable to students, he concluded.

Local divisional meetings and talks by A. A. Aldridge, supervisor of guidance, and B.Y. Card of the University Faculty of Education, highlighted Tuesday's sessions.

First Edmonton District Teachers' executive, Michael Skuba, of Smoky Lake, president; A. J. Strain, of Radway, vice-president; and Donald Murray, Alameda, secretary-treasurer, were in charge of arrangements.

BUSY HOUSEWIFE'S HOBBY

Jasper Place Woman Raises Birds in Spare Time

By Daphne Albright

A busy housewife of Jasper Place has found time in the past few years to raise one of the largest bird colonies in the Edmonton area.

A visitor to the home of Mrs. Dugas of 10111 154 street, is greeted with a chatter of birds.

We were introduced to her favorite, a paddy-green budgerigar, who, appropriately enough was called Paddy. Paddy, a born show-off, went through his performance with the aplomb of an old stager.

In common with the rest of his breed, Paddy has the ability to talk and he did. It seems that a good deal of time must have been spent in teaching Paddy to say among other things, "Paddy bird, pretty bird, wotcher doing," and "O, you cute thing." But Mrs. Dugas says that any of these birds can easily be trained in three to six months.

She also mentioned that the birds are easily raised and prove to be entertaining pets.

stores and beer sales amounted to $3,845,062, compared with a Calgary total of $2,971,756.

In Edmonton the stores profits were made up as follows: north side, $1,815,190; the south side, $660,321; west end, $169,755; mail order, $16,487; beer, $1,183,309.

himself and on the way to the main aviary located in the basement, we met Paddy's off-spring who is a younger edition of Paddy himself. Believe it or not over a hundred chattering, chirping, loving birds were there. All the colors of the spectrum were represented.

A cobalt blue, turquoise blue, paddy green, chartreuse green, yellow and mauve, as well as varying shades of all these colors were there to choose from. The most outstanding, we thought, was an odd little fellow, white in color with red eyes. He was an albino, a rare specimen worth $50. Around the corner, in a cage of their own, were six Cockateels, cute fellows with yellow, heads and rouse on their cheeks.

On leaving the aviary, we were shown some day-old "Budgies", not over an inch long and featherless. It was hard to believe that these would grow up to be so beautiful.

Farewell Party Fetes Pelletiers

MORINVILLE.— On Monday evening, the Lions, Canadian Legion and Firemen joined as co-sponsors to bid farewell to the Pelletier family who are now established in Westlock. A public dance was the order for this occasion and a presentation made by Mayor Soetart, speaking on behalf of those present. Mr. Soetart thanked Mr. Pelletier for the public services he had rendered during his stay in Morinville and wished him and Mrs. Pelletier the best of luck in his new business, presented them with a lovely clock as a memento of all present. Mr. John Hrushka, president of the Morinville Legion also addressed the assembly and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Pelletier as well as Lion president Walter Ellett. A miniature fire truck was also presented to ex-Fire Chief Pelletier from the Morinville Fire Brigade.

LETTER TO LOUISA

Mother of Two Worried By Travelling Husband

Dear Louisa—I have a husband who has a good job traveling and is only home on the week-ends.

I have a little girl by a former marriage and a baby by this husband.

My husband thinks I should leave my little girl and follow him around on his trips although we have invested money in a business here and someone needs to look after it.

He seemed very proud of my little girl before we were married but now he seems to dislike her. He never buys her anything and doesn't want me to get her things although buying for the baby is all right!

He gives me very little money and what he does with the rest of his salary, I do not know. When he comes home he is very cross and it is really no pleasure having him.

I am very much distressed as I feel that his attitude to my little girl will ruin our whole family life besides doing her harm.

I hate to leave my husband but I can't see where things are getting any better.

PUZZLED.

Answer:—

Yours is a bad situation and unless your husband is a man who can listen to reason and help work out your problems, there does not seem to be much chance of things getting better.

Evidently he is jealous of your little girl and the attention you give her and takes it out on all the family by being cross and stingy.

If your husband was a good provider and his only fault was being jealous of your little girl, it might be better for all of the family for you to compromise by letting your little girl stay with her grandmother part of the time. In this way you could go with him some of the time and be able to do more for the child financially.

But if your husband does not support you, I can see no reason to stay with him and suffer fuss and confusion every time he comes home. Certainly, such an atmosphere is not a good one for children growing up.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:—

I have three more months before I finish as a trained nurse but I have fallen in love with a boy who wants me to marry him. I have only known him two months as he comes from another state.

My parents want me to finish by course but he wants me to marry him right away.

What do you think I should do?

EIGHTEEN.

Answer:—

Finish your course and then marry him. Surely if he loves you he won't want you to throw away three years of hard work by not waiting three months to get your diploma.

In these times, every girl should know how to make a living. She does not know what the future holds for her and she may be left a widow with little children to support. If she has a good paying profession it may save her grief and worry.

It also seems to me that you have known this boy a very short time to be considering giving up everything in order to marry him.

LOUISA.

SEARCH FOR TALENT SHOW UNDERWAY IN ALBERTA

Northern Alberta's fourth annual search for talent crusade got underway at Thorhild, Saturday, Oct. 28.

The visit to Thorhild was the first of 28 Search-for-Talent programs to be presented by the Associated Canadian Travellers, in the interests of the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

The Search-for-Talent program has been planned with a three-fold purpose — the raising of funds to support Northern Alberta Crippled children; providing top-notch entertainment both on the stage and over the air for Northern Alberta communities; and the search for local talent in communities where such opportunities do not ordinarily prevail.

The search for talent crusade is the major fund-raising project for the Northern Alberta Crippled Children conducted by the Edmonton Club of the Associated Canadian Travellers. Each Saturday for 28 consecutive weeks, twelve members of the A.C.T., a cast of ten artists and the Radio Station CFRN technicians and a master of ceremonies, present their Search-for-Talent program in northern Alberta towns.

The Search-for-Talent committee has been laying plans for several

Original Music Latest Cultural Trend Here

Canadian music, new in itself, is now becoming popular abroad faster than it is being recognized right here in this country.

It is an anomaly of the Canadian cultural scene that, although music is an art in which Canadians have made significant contributions, the works of Canadian composers and the talents of Canadian performers remained, until the end of the war, little known to the Canadian public.

Since 1945, this situation has steadily improved. The number of orchestras and performers willing to introduce new Canadian works into their repertoires has notably increased, and an audience for Canadian composers and musicians is being created.

The establishment within the last few years of BMI Canada Limited, an affiliate of Broadcast Music Incorporated of the United States, directed jointly by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, has further increased the opportunities for publishing Canadian scores. Already this organization has issued more than 30 works by young Canadian composers such as Barbara Pentland, Harry Somers, Jean-Papineau Couture, Albertine Caron-Legris and Kenneth Peacock.

Since its inception in February 1945, the CBC International Service has also made known to listeners in Latin America and Europe.

CANADA FACTS BOOK ISSUED

Quick Canadian Facts, a digested volume about Canada and Canadians, was issued this week. The new book contains feature articles about the RCMP, about postage stamps, about the country's progress and system of government and a question-and-answer section that provides an informative quiz game covering many aspects of Canadian affairs. In its sixth year of publication Quick Canadian Facts contains 136 pages. It is distributed nationally through bookstores and newsstands.

Some of the interesting facts contained in the new book are that Cape Breton Island was at one time a separate province, that Alexander Graham Bell was first to take a man aloft in Canada in a heavier-than-air-machine, that the province of Prince Edward Island is only one-sixth the size of Vancouver Island, that the average Russian industrial worker earns the price of a pound of sugar in two hours whereas the average Canadian works only six minutes for his.

In addition to such sidelights on Canada and Canadians the 1950-1951 edition of Quick Canadian Facts contains very complete statistical data and reports on the most important aspects of our national life.

Canadian Wheat Costing More to Foreign Buyers

As the Canadian dollar advances in value, all products of Canada will cost more to the foreign buyers.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Northwest Miller, United States flour millers are anticipating a better opportunity to dispose of United States flour in South America because of the change in the Canadian dollar. Up until recently Canadian flour had a be advantage over the United States product in South America.

Sales of Canadian wheat and flour to Great Britain may also be affected. The United Kingdom has been a free buyer in Australia, having doubled its purchases so far this year. The Australian government has refused to revalue the pound in spite of pressure so to do.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

Germination Tests Important "A Warning"

The early, severe and widespread frost damage to grain crops, which occurred throughout Western Canada this year, emphasizes the great need for germination tests on seed stocks held for planting in 1951. We urge farmers to get this job done this fall.

Don't Take A Chance. In dealing with this year's crop it is not enough for a farmer to know that the grain he is keeping for seed has life, but rather how much life. In plain words, will it germinate satisfactorily. Don't take a chance! Be sure and get the "right slant" on the vigor or germinability of the seed you harvest this fall.

Free Testing Service. To serve western farmers, Line Elevators Farm Service operates a modern, efficient cereal seed testing laboratory. Annually, for the past 10 years, we have made germination and other seed tests on thousands of farmers' seed-grain samples. Again, this year, we invite farmers to make full use of our free seed testing facilities. In addition to a test for germination, we will, on request, undertake to examine farmers' seed samples for surface-borne smut, seed seed content, and purity as to variety. It must be pointed out, however, that tests made by Line Elevators Farm Service are not official government tests. Seed offered for sale must be tested at a government seed testing laboratory, that is, by the Plant Products Division at Winnipeg, Saskatoon, or Calgary.

Submit samples Early. All a farmer has to do to have a free germination test made is to take a truly representative sample of his seed-grain, 4 to 6 ounces of cleaned seed, to the local elevator of any of the Line Elevator Companies listed above. The Agent will provide a clean plastic bag, label, etc., and forward the sample to Winnipeg for testing. Farmers and grain buyers should submit samples for testing as soon as possible. Don't delay, in it today.

Reunion Banquet Held At Mayerthorpe

MAYERTHORPE—A re-union banquet of the men's 31st Regiment of the First World War was recently held at the home Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calder. Allan Lewis, Jack Calder and Mrs. McMillan of Greencourt, are the only members around this district.

Sixteen visitors attended from Edmonton.

The American WA catered to the banquet, and a toast was given to the ladies by Mr. Harrison of Edmonton. All members present spent a very enjoyable evening.

Least-used word in the Bible is "coffin." It occurs only once.

Horse Has Donkey for Twin Brother

Lare twins, perhaps even the rarest, are cavorting in a pasture near Crescent, Utah. One was sired by a horse, the other by a donkey. The owner says the mare, shown with her twins, was bred to a palomino and returned to pasture with a little donkey.

CANADA'S PROTEIN GRADING RECOGNIZED AS EXCELLENT

A full account of research on protein grading being undertaken by the Board of Grain Commissioners Laboratory was presented by Dr. J. A. Anderson, Chief Chemist of the Board, at a meeting of the committee on Western Grain Standards held in Winnipeg recently.

The Board's Grain Research Laboratory has been investigating the possibilities of protein grading for several years. Records have been kept of the protein content, bushel weight, grade and shipping point of every 20th car in each of the statutory grades.

Dr. Anderson pointed out that there are two main proposals for taking account of protein content in marketing wheat.

The first of these is used in the United States. It involves grading systems almost identical with the Canadian system. Protein content is not a factor in these American grades. In certain markets, after the wheat has been graded, it is sold on sample and premiums may or may not be paid for protein levels above the average. It is misleading to call this protein grading. It is better to call it a sample market with protein premiums.

The Board of Grain Commissioners Laboratory has analyzed what can be called the "traditional" proposal for protein grading. This involves setting minimum levels for protein content of each grade, just as is done for bushel weight, maturity, etc. It was suggested that minimum levels of 12.5 per cent, 11.5 per cent, and 10.5 per cent protein might be set for Grades 1, 2 and 3 Northern respectively.

This procedure simply introduces another de-grading factor. No farmer gains a grade because his wheat is high in protein content. But over 5 per cent of farmers would lose one to two grades because of low protein content. Some improvement in the uniformity of No. 1 Northern would occur at the expense of Nos. 3 and 4 Northern.

Chief Commissioner, Mr. D. G. McKenzie, pointed out that it had taken more than 30 years to establish the confidence that millers in the United Kingdom now have in the Canadian grading system. It is widely acknowledged that this system is the best in use anywhere in the world.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

No One Doubts Presence Of Evil In Society

No one doubts the presence of temptation to evil in our modern society today. Most of us agree with Paul, who declared, "When I would do good, evil is present with me."

It is a comfort to know, however that Jesus was tempted in all points, like as we are, yet he was without sin (Heb. 4:15). Our reference from Matthew tells of some of his temptations. These temptations were tests of his ideals, his objectives, and his methods. It is interesting to point out that all of these temptations were met by Jesus with a quotation from the Bible. Bible knowledge will help us in our struggle with temptation and living in keeping with our knowledge of God's word is the only safe plan for the Christian.

Jesus declared that no man can serve two masters and two masters are striving for the control of every man's soul — Christ and the devil. Their power pulls in opposite directions and leads to opposite goals, therefore, they cannot be served at the same time. The life that is consecrated to Christ is completely identified with him. Therefore, the consecrated Christian who is devoted to his church, to his Christ, and to the practice of prayer and Bible study has a bulwark to strengthen him or her against the temptations of modern life.

Probably, one of the strongest temptations men and women face today is that of whether or not to drink alcoholic beverages. So many believe the argument that he or she cannot be successful in business or accepted in society, unless he drinks social cocktails or serves alcoholic beverages in his home. This line of argument is carried so often in the attractive advertisements displayed in current magazines and newspapers.

Joseph Hirsch, one-time executive director of the Research Council on the Problems of Alcohol presents these figures about drinking in the United States:

Bright Sayings

Your Bright Saying may be worth $1. Send it to 10815 Whyte Ave., Edmonton.

One Sunday a little girl told her mother that she had been bad in Sunday School. To this her mother answered, "God doesn't like little children to be naughty, because He loves them. So when they're naughty it makes Him feel bad."

After a few minutes of thought, the little girl answered: "Well, if He loves us so darn much, why doesn't He come and see us some time?"

"Out of 60,000,000 consumers of alcoholic beverages ... there are 3,750,000 excessive drinkers." This means that one of every fifteen "moderate" drinkers has become an alcoholic. Probably, each of the 3,750,000 "problem drinkers" used to assure himself and his friends "I can take a drink or I can leave it alone."

Those who would withstand temptation, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ, should put on the Christian's armor outlined by Paul in Eph. 6:10-18: (1) the breastplate of righteousness—integrity of character; (2) the shield of faith, which protects one against the invasion of doubt and fear; (3) the helmet of salvation, as a security against the forces of darkness; (4) the girdle of truth—an unfailing source of strength in time of temptation; (5) the shoes of the gospel, which enable a Christian to go forward in the face of all odds, spreading the message of the Gospel as he goes; (6) the sword of the spirit, which is the Word of God—using the scripture to resist temptation as did Christ; (7) the power of prayer—which equips the Child of God for every test and trial.

Liberal Minister Reports On Industrial Revolution

Canada is experiencing an industrial revolution similar in nature to that which took the United States to the top, Hon. J. J. McCann, federal minister of mines and technical surveys, said in an address last week at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon in Edmonton.

"There has been so much development crowded into such a short time it is hard to appraise it," the minister declared. "A little while ago there was discouragement that there were any chances for further major oil discoveries in Canada and, frankly, we were in a bad position. Western oil consumption was rising and import restrictions were imposed to conserve dollars," he continued.

Major Oil Industry

"Then came Leduc No. 1. It seemed to act as a sort of catalyst that brought a series of discoveries into motion," Dr. McCann said. "A major oil industry is coming into being in a country that was dependent on outside sources for almost 90 per cent of its petroleum requirements."

Recent events, he said, are contributing to a great industrial pattern in Canada. He cited the oil, great iron developments in Ontario and Quebec and growth of asbestos production in Ontario.

The largest iron and titanium refinery in the world is located in Quebec, Dr. McCann said. It is capable of refining 500 tons of iron per day and 750 tons of titanium.

Rapid Development

"A striking feature of all the developments is the rapidity with which they are emerging as major segments of our mineral resources," Dr. McCann declared. "The swift pace of developments is in keeping with the colorful and efficient discovery of our mineral wealth."

There are 110,000 persons directly employed in the mining industry and they draw about $300,000,000 a year, he said. Minerals account for 26 per cent of Canada's exports, he added.

In reply to statements that Canada's mineral resources are "untapped and unlimited," the minister said such is not the case.

Tax Concessions

Tax concessions to mining concerns "hinge on the government's desire to aid the development of natural resources," Dr. McCann stated. "In giving these concessions Canada has gone further than any other country in the world," he said.

"But we must think of these developments not only in relation to domestic needs but also of world needs," he warned. "The fortunes of Canadians are linked to those of other lands."

"I am not moralizing, but facing the realities of a changing world," Dr. McCann continued. "We can't afford to ignore aiding development of other countries."

Calgary Power

Letter dated September 21 and maps outlining the location of the proposed Power Line from Legal Corner, at its intersection with Government Highway, No. 2, at the N.W. Qtr. 22-27-25-W4th, and going east one mile, was taken up by the Council.

It was moved by Councillor Meunier and carried, that as this matter was approved at the last meeting that the Reeve and the Secretary-Treasurer be authorized to approve the said maps as shown.

Manawan Drainage District

The Council were advised that Mayor Soetaert of Morinville, had called and informed that an agreement had been reached with the Manawan Drainage District for the draining of the waters from the Town of Morinville and that it would be necessary to have the Council's permission to cross the water across the road allowance at a point approximately 50 yards east of the present barricade in the ditch to the north side of the road allowance.

On motion of Councillor Perrott, Council appointed Councillor Meunier, on behalf of the Municipal District of Morinville, to supervise the building of the ditch as proposed by the Town. The Council have no objection to the proposed ditch being placed on the road allowance, providing the Town have reached an agreement with the Manawan Drainage District and owners which are concerned. The question of culverts be also left to the discretion of the Town and Municipal representative.

Field Supervisor's Report
Field Supervisor's report for the months of August and September ber was read to the Council by the Reeve.

It was moved by Councillor Schafers and carried, that this report be adopted as read to the Council.

Supervised Farms

Agreements in regards to supervised farms and procedures to be followed were gone into by the Council as set out in the letter from the Department dated April 20, 1950.

There are two different agreements, one where the farmer concerned is able to carry out the plan without any financial help from the District and other where help of this nature will be required. The persons in question are to be interviewed by the Service Board and agree to Schedule A of the agreement being the rotation as prepared by the District Agriculturist and the Field Supervisor.

This schedule must be signed by the owner or occupant or the both of them as to the responsibility of carrying the plan out. The agreements may then be signed as well. The person concerned, when this procedure has been taken, must appear before the Council at one of their meetings before the agreement is finally executed.

On agreements where possible expenditures are expected, the kind of advances as well as the estimated amounts must be shown and also the manner in which payment is to be effected.

It was moved by Councillor Perrott and carried, that agreements be drawn in accordance with the Department's instruction and that the Council approve of the said agreements when this has been done and before finally executing the said agreements.
